

WOMEN IN CHARGE OF DINNER AND C. OF C. FORUM

Informal Social Hour, Banquet and Interesting Talks Feature Program

The men were strictly out of affairs at the Chamber of Commerce forum dinner last night, that is, as far as plans for the event and the program was concerned—for the women's forum committee members were hostesses. Led by Dr. Jessie A. Russell, the women greeted their guests before the dinner hour in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, where everyone who forgot his business card was tagged and also received rules of procedure for getting acquainted.

In order that there might not be any misunderstanding with regard to the informal part of the affair the following five rules and threat of punishment for violation were presented:

Important Rules
First—Remember! No formal introductions permitted!

Second—Smile, and greet your neighbor.

Third—Do not converse continually with your wife! Give the other men a chance.

Fourth—Wear your professional or business card where it may be easily read by all comers.

Fifth—Become acquainted with at least six new members before dinner.

N. B.—A heavy penalty will be imposed for any violation of the above rules.

By Order Women's Forum Committee.

The best description of the success of the informal hour was given by William Dunkerley, secretary of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, one of the special guests, in these words:

"Either everybody knew everybody else or your get-acquainted plan worked successfully."

At Banquet Tables

From the offices the 200 or more members and guests gathered in the banquet hall, where long tables were arranged and artistically decorated with tall vases of copper-colored chrysanthemums.

IMPROVEMENT ON ROAD PROMISED

Supervisors to Spend Large Sum on Glendale Boulevard C. of C. Learns

Glendalians motoring to and from Los Angeles will undoubtedly be elated to hear that the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles has voted to spend $10,000 of the county's funds in the improvement of a stretch of Glendale boulevard near Silver Lake reservoir.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday at the regular weekly meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce by James Rhoades, secretary.

He reported that the communication from the Los Angeles supervisors resulted from complaints registered by the local organization, which in turn had been appealed to by motorists to have the holes and bumps in the highway in question removed.

Two Glendalians in State

Mr. Rhoades read also a letter received by the chamber from Walter F. Lineberger, congressman from the Ninth California district, relative to the fact that there are two cities in California named Glendale. The other one is located in Humboldt county.

Mr. Rhoades wrote the congressman some time ago requesting that he use his good graces to have the latter city change its name, thereby eliminating the possibilities of postal confusion for both towns.

In reply Mr. Lineberger says he took the matter up with the postoffice department and that the latter is not empowered to change the name of the office in Humboldt county as it is not an independent postoffice, being served through Blue Lake, Calif.

Any change in the name of the northern city will have to be effected by the citizens themselves, Mr. Lineberger wrote.

Except for the foregoing, business transacted by the chamber yesterday was along routine lines. Eleven new members joined the organization, it was announced. Their names and business follow:

Western Mutual Finance Co., 211 W. Broadway, real estate and loans; Glendale Glass and Glazing Co., 521 S. Brand, glass and glazing; Pesner Bros., 601 S. Brand, auto electric company; Harry W. Chase, 103-A N. Brand, attorney; Broadway Garage, 721 E. Broadway, storage and repairs; Broadway Nursery, 626 E. Broadway, nursery and seed store; H. E. Bus, 636 W. Milford Ave., painter; Henry L. Rasmus, 315 N. Jackson, pastor First M. E. Church; Stevens Construction Co., 111 E. Broadway, building and architecture; Glendale Mineral Baths, 107 1/2 S. Brand, baths and Swedish massage; and Lyman & Lund, 301 E. Broadway, vulcanizing works.

Monthly 'Feed' Held By Hi-Y Members

The monthly "Hi-Y feed" was held last night at the First Methodist church. Harold Wagner of Occidental college was the main speaker. He talked to the "Hi-Y" pupils on "what colleges expect of high school graduates." An entertainment program followed. It included a cornet solo by Ivan Dow, a recitation by Charles Jacobs of Occidental college, and a number of selections by the Al Brown orchestra of Glendale.

A male quartet, composed of Paul E. Edmonds, Harold Jones, Robert Carver and Ivan Dow, also entertained with a number of the latest vocal selections.

The committee in charge of the "feed" consisted of Howard Butterfield, P. L. Hatch, W. G. Boyd, Bert Robbs, Dick Link and G. E. Murphy.

Swindler De Luxe Taken In S. F., Claim

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Police declared today that through the arrest of Ivan Glavanovic, 36, former Los Angeles bank clerk, an extensive international plot has been uncovered to flood this country with spurious Bank of England notes.

Glavanovic in a few hours is alleged to have defrauded six San Francisco and three Oakland banks of sums aggregating $6,000. He was preparing to depart for Los Angeles when arrested.

According to detective the prisoner admitted the notes were printed by a big German counterfeiting gang and that he was one of their agents in this country to whom bogus notes were sent for cashing.

Trotsky Waiting for Revolution to Come

MOSCOW, Nov. 15.—"Our slogan is to sit tight until the red world revolution breaks out," declared Leon Trotsky, people's commissar for war in the soviet government addressing the international communist leaders today. "All we ask is that our foreign comrades give us five years more to prove the advantage of socialism over capitalists."

Uncle John Says --

Me and Mary was discussing how fast Glendale is growing last night, and Mary said, "Glendale merchants have been mighty lucky to get so much more business on account of the growth in population." And I said, "Mary, you've got that just turned around. The population has grown because the business men have been progressive, other things being favorable, of course." Well, we argued the matter quite a while and Mary got riled up but we finally got it was no use to quarrel so we both admitted the other was partly right and that it was co-operation between the merchants and the people that had done it.

FLOOR PLANS FOR NEW UNION HIGH SCHOOL READY

Board of Trustees Approve of Drawings; Cost Not to Exceed $550,000

Floor plans for the new high school plant were approved last night by the Glendale Union high school board of trustees with the proviso that the cost of construction shall not exceed $550,000.

Frederick Ashley explained the plans in detail to the members of the board who expressed themselves well pleased with the general arrangement. Mr. Ashley is a member of the firm of Austin & Ashley of Los Angeles which is associated with George M. Lindsey of 710 East Broadway in the architectural work in connection with the new educational plant.

Floor plans for the science building which will occupy the east wing of the main building, have not been completed yet. A corps of draughtsmen are now at work upon them and they will be finished as soon as possible.

To Face Broadway

The high school will face Broadway and the main entrance will be about a hundred feet east of Verdugo road.

To the left of this entrance will be a suite of three offices to be occupied by vice principal for boys, the vice principal for girls, and the principal. From a small reception room a hall will make it possible for persons to reach each of these offices without disturbing the occupants of the other two offices. Near the left side of the entrance is a room which will be used for board meetings and for faculty conferences during the school day.

To the right of the entrance will be the attendance office. Here enrollment records of the pupils will be kept. This will be the headquarters of the students.

Large Auditorium

The business manager's department will be located across the hall from the principal's office on the left side of the entrance. A small reception room will open into a private office. In the basement directly below will be a store room for text books and school property under his care.

The auditorium will be directly behind the main entrance. This has been planned so that it can (Continued on Page 4)

City School Board Holds Session

The grammar school board of education last night discussed matters connected with the local school system.

Superintendent R. D. White was instructed to use his own discretion in arranging the program for the mid-year graduation.

Miss Elsa Brennaman, supervisor of music was granted permission to attend a convention in Oakland Thursday and Friday of next week.

Permission was granted the Community Service to have announcements in regard to its activities made in the schools.

A request was received from C. W. Ingledue and Charles A. Stuart, representing the Glendale Advancement Association, that the school board should dedicate twelve feet from the north end of the Cerritos playground for the widening of Forrest avenue. It was explained that it was desired to make this a connecting link between Glendale avenue and Brand boulevard. Mr. Black, J. D. Hibben and Dr. P. O. Lucas were appointed a committee to investigate.

LARGE FRUIT CAKE FACTORY WILL BE ERECTED HERE

Unusual Culinary Industry to Make Glendale Known As 'Sweetest' City

Glendale will shortly become the home of the most unusual culinary industry and one of the most highly advertised products in the United States—the Hazen J. Titus Fruit Cake company. Grounded for the proposed factory and accompanying buildings, one of which will be an exact replica of the historic mansion of Thomas Jefferson at Monticello, Va., will be broken on a site, not yet selected—within the next thirty days.

This was the statement made yesterday by Hazen J. Titus, head of the company that bears his name, who is now in Glendale considering plans with officials of the Chamber of Commerce for making Glendale the "City of Commerce" and most highly advertised city in the United States.

Mr. Titus, who recently moved his plant from Seattle to California, has a factory at present at 1278 South Western avenue, Los Angeles.

Studies Glendale

"Ever since my arrival in the state," he explained yesterday, "I have been looking for a suitable location for establishing my factory. I looked here and everywhere. Finally, at the instigation of your Chamber of Commerce and your postmaster, Captain D. Ripley Jackson, I came to Glendale to study its industrial possibilities. And, as my decision to build here implies, I like your city very much and it will accord me much pleasure to have the Glendale plant be the most prominent of Glendale broadcasted all over the world on my metal encased fruit cakes."

The main structure of those projected will be the administration building. This is the one that will be a replica of Thomas Jefferson's mansion. It will contain reception, display and tea rooms, all of which will be open the year round, and it will abound with the same hospitality that predominated in the old Jefferson mansion.

Attractive Buildings

"An adjoining building, quite as pretentious in design as the foregoing, will contain the white tiled mixing rooms and bakehouse of my company."

The administration building proposed will be one of the most (Continued on Page 8)

ELK SERVICE FOR RAY A. BORTHICK

Lodge Members Pay Tribute to His Memory; Rev. Cole Preaches Sermon

The hour of 11 p. m. probably will always remind local Elks of Ray A. Borthick, who died yesterday afternoon, Tuesday, November 14, 1922, at the clubhouse, where he lived so long, was well attended by his brother Elks.

As a tribute to his memory, the center, which was placed in the front of the lodge hall, was banked with floral pieces. These were of great fragrance and beauty.

"One of the lessons taught by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is that the duty that lies nearest thee," declared Arthur H. Dibbern, exalted ruler of the local lodge during the ritual. "Our present duty is to pay a just tribute of affection and honor to a brother who has passed to another sphere of action."

"Upon an occasion of such profound meaning it is meet that we should pause in thoughtful survey of the principles we uphold. The faith we uphold directs us to live in bonds of charity with all mankind. To do justice to one another raises the standard of human excellence everywhere. Brotherly love is a torch that sheds lustre over the whole path." (Continued on Page 8)

HOLD IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT PLACING OF CORNERSTONE FOR TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Speakers Pay Tribute to Women For Their Part In Upbuilding Nation, City and Home; Give Charter Day Program

By KATHERINE VIRGINIA SINKS

As the sun went down behind the western hills yesterday afternoon and the lengthening shadows brought to a close an ideal California day, the cornerstone of the new club home of the Tuesday Afternoon Club at the corner of Central avenue and Lexington drive, was sealed in its place, to stand as one of the most important milestones in the history of the club organization, which has grown from an informal social gathering of ten women in 1898 to a modern, progressive women's club with a membership of between 600 and 700 members.

Preceding the ceremony of laying the cornerstone, the club members met for their annual Charter Day program at the Masonic Temple.

The auditorium was crowded to capacity, over 100 women standing during the meeting hour, which was featured by the presentation of twenty-one charter members who still maintain their club membership, and by a most enjoyable and clever sketch presented by the Music Section.

Charter Members

The charter members called to the front of the auditorium by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, and introduced to the assembly were:

Mesdames J. M. Banker, H. E. Bartlett, R. A. Blackburn, C. W. Barker, Helen Campbell, F. L. Church, J. C. Danford, F. Deal, W. C. Fraley, Edgar Leavitt, Alexander Mitchell, P. S. McKint, C. J. Newcomb, C. F. Parker, Mary O. Ryan, M. L. Tigh, Charles Temple, A. W. Tower, F. H. Vesper and Misses Ruth Byram and Ida Waite.

From the Masonic Temple the club company motored to the new clubhouse, where Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, presided over the impressive ceremonies of laying the cornerstone.

Publisher First Speaker

The first speaker introduced by Mrs. Campbell was A. T. Cowan of The Glendale Evening News, who responded with a few words of praise of the Tuesday Afternoon club success and placed a copy of The Glendale Evening News in which the club colors in the copper box in the store.

"It gives me great pleasure to take part in this event, that is really an epoch in the history of the Tuesday Afternoon club," said Mr. Cowan. "We are now all looking forward to the dedication of this splendid building."

"On behalf of The Glendale Evening News I want to wish the club great success. And you are successful. You have done great things for Glendale and I want to share that in all my experience. I have never seen another organization of women that has had such eagerness and progressiveness in any part of the United States."

Praise for Women

John Hyde Braly, prominent Glendale resident, was another of the special guests and speakers and in response to his introduction he told of his interest in the emancipation of woman and of his

Impressive Feature

One of the most impressive parts of the program was the placing in the stone the year books of the various years in the club's history. As each year was called by Mrs. Campbell the president of that year or a representative placed her book or books in the box.

The books stood for the club history from 1904 to 1922 and the books were placed in the box by:

Mrs. J. M. Banker, representing 1904-1905, Mrs. Frank G. Taylor, past president, deceased, Mrs. Robert A. Blackburn, 1905, 1906 and 1909 and 1910.

Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, representing 1906-1907 and 1908 and 1909, Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, past president, absent.

Mrs. F. L. Church, representing 1907-1908, Mrs. Martha Morris, past president, deceased.

Mrs. Mary Gridley Braly, 1910-1911 and 1914-1915.

Mrs. Alphonso W. Tower, 1911-1912 and 1919-1920.

Mrs. Helen Campbell, representing 1912-1913, Mrs. May Pirtle Chase, past president, deceased.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, 1913-1914 and 1914-1915.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 1915-1916 and 1916-1917.

Mrs. E. D. Yard, representing 1917-1918 and 1918-1919, Mrs. William W. Ramsay, past president, absent.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, 1920-1921 and 1921-1922.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, the present year.

Seventy Life Members

Mrs. A. P. Findlay was then presented by Mrs. Campbell and she placed in the stone the names of the seventy life members of the club. (Continued on Page 8)

Band Concerts Over Until Next Spring

C. M. Burke, manager of the Elks' band, announced today that his organization will play no more concerts in Glendale this winter. Engagements for the summer season closed with the concert last Sunday, he said.

In concluding the season's schedule Mr. Burke stated that he wished to thank the city and the merchants of Glendale for the support given the band during the summer months.

During the winter months he said the band will be put through a strenuous rehearsal, working mostly on all the late band numbers.

The band on November 29 will accompany the Glendale order of Elks to Redlands, where a large class will be initiated.

Asa G. Candler, Sr., Is Visiting In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Asa G. Candler, Sr., Coca Cola king, of Atlanta and one of the south's wealthiest men, spent today in San Francisco inspecting the United States transport Logan which he has purchased. The aged millionaire, whose broken romance with Mrs. Onizema de Bouchelle of New Orleans recently caused a sensation, arrived here last night, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Asa Candler, Jr.

An agent of Candler has been in the city some time making final arrangements for taking over the Logan and while no information was given out, it was reported the Candler would make a trip to Portland on the vessel.

Million Dollar Fire In Bethlehem, Pa.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 15.—Fire early today nearly wiped out the whole plant of Kurtis Brothers, this city, manufacturers of furniture and office fixtures, entailing an estimated loss close to $800,000. The fire started in the varnishing shop.

Besides expensive machinery and a half dozen frame buildings there went up in smoke many dining-room sets. The loss is apparently covered by insurance.

Tokio Pays No Heed to New U. S. Ruling

TOKIO, Nov. 15.—The ruling of the United States supreme court declaring Japanese ineligible to citizenship in the United States because they are not of the "white race" attracted no great attention following its first publication here yesterday afternoon.

All of the Japanese papers carried the story but even the jingoistic organs withheld comment. This probably does not indicate that the decision is so great a shock, but rather is the full before the storm that will break within a day or two in the editorial columns.

However, it is learned, the government is not interested and will enter into no discussion of the case, however violently it rages in the public press.

Tomorrow's editorials are expected to bitterly denounce the decision as amplification of inferiority of the yellow race.

COURT TEA ROOM WINS MANY BY HOSPITALITY

Mrs. A. W. Owers Proves
Charming Hostess; Shop
Is Proving Popular

There is no place in Glendale where a chat over the tea cups is quite as enjoyable as out at the Court Tea Shoppe in the Court Shops on East Broadway.

In the artistically arranged little shop, one may partake of the pleasing hospitality of the hostess, Mrs. A. W. Owers, and whether it be breakfast, luncheon, afternoon tea or an after theatre party, the delicacies are prepared and served attractively.

Shades of rose have been used by Mrs. Owers in the draperies of her little shop and these and the art wicker furniture combine harmoniously in the shop furnishings.

Undoubtedly the most fitting trademark Mrs. Owers could select for the perfection of her shop would be a tempting cup of tea, for her tea is delightful and her success may well be attributed to her English ancestry. There is no one who knows better how to make tea than the English, and Mrs. Owers is English.

She is also clever in many other things, whether it be something for the breakfast or luncheon menu. In addition to serving patrons in the shop Mrs. Owers takes orders for lunches or pies and cakes and assists hostesses by catering for afternoon or evening affairs.

Since opening her shop Mrs. Owers has enjoyed most gratifying success, justifying her claim to having "Glendale's Exclusive Tea Room."

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Back hurts you? Can't straighten up without sudden pain, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Nothing else takes on soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back, and out comes the pain. It is harmless, and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil from any drug store, and after using it just once you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt, or cause any more misery. It never disappoints, and has been recommended for 60 years.—Advertisement.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

Social Events

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

The Hollywood Current Events club met last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Frazer, 642 North Myrtle avenue. Members and guests numbered nearly fifty. Several important speakers were present and contributed to a very instructive and interesting program. Refreshments late in the evening rounded out the occasion.

The principal address was by Dr. French, a very highly educated woman who has made a study of the criminal mind. She spoke on "Psychical Analysis as Applied to Criminality." This topic was of particular interest to Mr. Fraser, for, as chief of Glendale's police department, he, too, has given a great deal of thought to the criminal mind.

Dr. Edwin P. Ryland, a noted traveler, then spoke on "A Trip to Foreign Lands." Being of a humorous turn of mind, his remarks dealt mostly with a whimsical account of a visit to his home town in Missouri.

Following this, Miss Jean Smalley, "who never got over the whistling stage, but developed it until it has become an art," rendered several of her best selections, to her own piano accompaniment.

All in all, it was a very entertaining program and everyone had a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Short addresses were also given by George Hallett, assistant postmaster; Fred B. Walker, superintendent of mails, and Walter W. Hunt, foreman of carriers.

Music for the party was furnished by the postoffice band, which features Mike Kaufman at the piano.

Community singing was led by Captain Jackson and several solos and numbers were put on by postal employees.

Possibly one of the sweetest singers at the party was Oscar Wright, who is known around the postoffice as the "Postman Caper." Mr. Wright has recently moved to Glendale from Bakersfield.

Others who shared in the evening's applause were L. Clarke, who sang several selections, and Walter Hunt, who uncovered some witty stories.

WAR CLOUDS THREATEN

LONDON, Nov. 15.—With war clouds again looming ominously in the near east, France is again at odds with England today. This time with the Tory government of Premier Bonar Law and not the hated coalition ministry of Lloyd George.

Advices received by the foreign office today said the situation at Constantinople is most tense, the Turkish nationalists having assumed an aggressive, arrogant attitude and levying demands upon the allies now instead of making requests. Great Britain wants to adopt a policy of force and proclaim martial law immediately. The French and Italian high commissioner at Constantinople oppose martial law, saying it would be equivalent to immediate outbreak of war.

I wish to announce to the ladies of Glendale that I have established an office in the attractive new Monarch Building, corner of Brand Boulevard and Harvard street, for the popular Harper Method of Scientific Treatment and Shampooing of the Scalp and Hair. Warns Business Men On Keeping Records

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell yesterday received from Washington a treasury decision outlining the Internal Revenue Department's policy with regard to the keeping of permanent business records for income tax purposes. Virtually every business man in southern California is affected by the ruling which, however, exempts farmers.

Under the decision every taxpayer carrying on the business of producing, manufacturing, purchasing or selling any commodities or merchandise, except the business of growing or selling products of the soil, shall for the purpose of determining the amount of income under the Revenue Act of 1921, keep such permanent books of accounts or records, including inventories, as are necessary to establish the amount of gross income and deduction, credits and other information required by an income tax return. The taxpayer shall produce these records for the inspection of revenue officers as prescribed by law.

Taxpayers are cautioned under the ruling not to destroy any records pertaining to any income tax return until the expiration of five years from the date on which the return was filed.

Barbara Harding brought him a drink, holding his head against her knee while he drank. The cool liquid seemed to give him new strength, for presently he spoke, quite strongly.

"I'm going, Byrne," he said; "but before I go I want to tell you that of all the brave men I ever have known I have learned within the past few days to believe you are the bravest. A week ago I thought you were a coward—I ask your forgiveness."

"Forget it," whispered Byrne, "for a week ago I guess I was a coward. There seems to be more'n one kind of nerve—I'm just a learnin' of the right kind, I guess."

"And, Byrne," continued Theriere, "don't forget what I asked of you before we tossed up to see which should enter Oda Yorimoto's house."

"I'll not forget," said Billy. "Good-bye, Byrne," whispered Theriere, "Take good care of Miss Harding."

"Good-bye, old pal," said the mucker. His voice broke, and two big tears rolled down the cheeks of "de toughest guy on de Wes' Side."

Barbara Harding stepped to Theriere's side.

"Good-bye, my friend," she said. "God will reward you for your friendship, your bravery, and your devotion. There must be a special honor roll in heaven for such noble men as you."

Theriere smiled sadly. "Byrne will tell you all," he said, "except who I am—he does not know that."

"Is there any message, my friend," asked the girl, "that you would like to have me deliver?"

Theriere remained silent for a moment as though thinking. "My name," he said, "is Henri Theriere. I am the Count de Cadetnet of France. There is no message, Miss Harding, other than you see fit to deliver to my relatives. They lived in Paris the last I heard of them—my brother, Jacques, was a deputy."

His voice had become so low and weak that the girl could scarce distinguish his words. He gasped once or twice, and then tried to speak again. Barbara leaned closer, her ear almost against his lips.

"Good-bye—dear," The words were almost inaudible, and then the body stiffened with a little convulsive tremor, and Henri Theriere, Count de Cadetnet, passed over into the keeping of his noble ancestors.

"He's gone!" whispered the dry-eyed but suffering. She had not loved this man, she realized, but she had learned to think of him as her one true friend in their little world of scoundrels and murderers. She had cared for him very much—it was entirely possible that some day she might have come to return his evident affection for her. She knew nothing of the seamy side of his hard life. She had guessed nothing of the soundly duplicitous that had marked his first advances toward her. She thought of him only as a true, brave gentleman, and in that she was right, for whatever Henri Theriere might have been in the past the last few days of his life had revealed him in the true colors that birth and nature had intended him to wear through a brilliant career. In his death he had atoned for many sins.

And in those last few days he had transferred, all unknown to himself or the other man, a measure of the gentility and chivalry that were his birthright, for, un-realizing, Billy Byrne was patterning himself after the man he had hated and had come to love.

After the girl's announcement the mucker had continued to sit with bowed head staring at the ground. Afternoon had deepened into evening, and now the brief twilight of the tropics was upon them—in a few minutes it would be dark.

Presently Byrne looked up. His eyes wandered about the tiny clearing. Suddenly he staggered to his feet. Barbara Harding sprang up, startled by the evident alarm in the man's attitude.

"What is it?" she whispered. "What's the matter?"

"De Chink!" he cried. "Where is de Chink?"

And, sure enough, Oda Isaka had disappeared!

GREAT BRITAIN IS ELECTING NEW HOUSE OF COMMONS IN MOST SPECTACULAR CONTEST

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Great Britain, with the exception of Ireland, is electing a new house of commons today following the most bitter and spectacular political campaign the country has known in a decade.

Upon the outcome will depend whether England is to continue to have a Tory government or the liberals will come into power. It was generally conceded that the Socialist-Laborites have little chance of getting control.

The most spectacular figure of the campaign and election is David Lloyd George, England's war premier, whose coalition government was overturned by the Tory "die hards."

Lloyd George was returned to his seat in commons without opposition from his old constituency at Carnarvon, Wales.

On account of the small number of Lloyd George liberal candidates standing for election to commons there is no chance of this faction of the liberal party gaining control unless Lloyd George effects a bloc or coalition with the liberals of the opposing faction or with Tory members, who are dissatisfied with the policies of Premier Andrew Bonar Law.

Facts about British general elections:
Object of election: To choose a new house of commons.
Number of electors: About 20,000,000, approximately one-half of whom are women.

Cost of the election: $10,000,000.
Number of seats to be filled: 615.
Candidates to be elected: 558.

Candidates returned without opposition: 57.
Tory candidates nominated: 474.
Laborites: 414.

Asquith (Independent) liberals: 336.
Lloyd George (National) liberals: 182.
Other candidates nominated: 20.
Women candidates: 32.

The legal membership of the house is 707, but the number was reduced by the creation of the Irish free state which is not represented in the English parliament.

New Bank to Open on Saturday, Nov. 18

The officials of the new Community Savings & Commercial bank, having obtained the permission of the state superintendent of banks, have set next Saturday, November 18, as the opening day for the new bank.

The work on the fixtures and vaults has been completed so that when the doors are opened for business everything will be ready to render personal constructive banking service of the highest order.

Examination by the state banking officials before the granting of the charter revealed the necessity of a soundly operated, home financial institution in the southern section of Glendale, immediately adjacent to the Los Angeles city limit. The exceptionally high character of the men interested in the Community Savings & Commercial bank is such that the people in that vicinity may look forward to the future of the bank with a feeling of confidence, being sure that with the co-operation of the entire community, the growth of this vicinity under this new impulse will be steady and beneficial to all.

Therefore it is with pleasure the southern section of the city anticipates the opening of the Community Savings & Commercial bank and the manifold advantages it will bring to this section insuring the support and best wishes of all in that vicinity.

PLANS FOR NEW SCHOOL APPROVED

High School Board Passes on Drawings: Cost Not to Exceed $550,000

be used as a separate unit at night, will accommodate about 2000 pupils. There will be no gallery, but the balcony will be very large. The stage will be of large size with a proscenium opening of 35 feet, a depth of 30 feet, a full width of about 50 feet and a height of about 40 feet.

"High school stages today we have to practically equip as though they were theatres," remarked Mr. Ashley.

Dressing rooms and property rooms will be built underneath the stage. Numerous exits have been provided for all sides of the auditorium.

The music department will be located in two first floor classrooms and two second floor classrooms behind the auditorium. This location will serve two purposes—aspiring musicians may make as much harmony as they desire without disturbing the studios inclined, and members of music classes will have ready access to the stage.

A large study hall, 35x106 feet in size, will be placed to the west of the auditorium on the right side of the principal corridor. Above it will be the school library which will be 35x80 feet in dimensions or about twice the size of the present library. Students in either of these two rooms will be able to get into the auditorium quickly. By removing a partition separating the library from a classroom it will be possible to enlarge the library.

The second floor above the main entrance will be occupied by classrooms intended for the English department. This will be accompanied by suitable conference rooms.

Liberal Arts Building
The Liberal Arts building will face Broadway but will parallel Verdugo road.

The first floor will be occupied by the commercial department. There will be classrooms for advanced stenography, elementary stenography, commercial arithmetic and penmanship on the east side and for office appliances, commercial arithmetic, advanced typewriting, elementary typewriting and advanced bookkeeping on the west side.

The second floor will be occupied by the domestic science department, but a study hall for girls will be placed across the front. Two sewing rooms on the east side of the building will be divided by a small stock room, and a fitting room. On the west side of the building will be a millinery work shop with its stock room and conference office. Next to it will be a lecture room which will be used also by students of the culinary art. Two large "cookery" rooms will be divided by a model bungalow.

The administration building and the liberal arts building will be joined by a two story connecting wing which will contain a number of classrooms. Under this section of the building will be placed the school cafeteria.

Near the study hall rooms on the first floor will be used as an office for student body officers and as a student body store.

UNCLE WIGGILY GOES FISHING.

Jackie Bow Wow, the little puppy dog boy, came running to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow one morning, all out of breath. His tongue was hanging from his mouth. I mean, of course, that Jackie was out of breath, and it was his tongue that was hanging from his mouth—not the bungalow's. Gracious! I hope you don't imagine for one moment that Uncle Wiggily's bungalow had a tongue!

"What's the matter, Jackie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he saw the doggie boy panting, for he had run hard.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Can't you do something for Baby Bunty?" asked Jackie.

"Baby Bunty! What's the matter with her?" asked the rabbit uncle in surprise. "Don't tell me the Fox or Wolf has caught her!"

"No, it isn't quite as bad as that," said Jackie. "But our bunny is very sick and she's at our house and she wants a fish."

"Baby Bunty is ill and wants a fish!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, in great surprise. "I never heard of such a thing! Of course I knew Baby Bunty was visiting at your house, Jackie, but she's the bunny for the little rabbit girl 'visited around,' as school teachers did in the country years ago. 'But, land sakes! She wants a fish! Did Dr. Possum tell her to take a fish instead of a pill?' asked the bunny."

"Oh, no, Uncle Wiggily; you have it all wrong!" laughed Jackie. "Baby Bunty is just ill and fussy, my mother says. Nothing we can do for Bunty seems to please her. She was crying when I came away, and she wants a fish."

"Why does she want a fish?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Just to look at," barked Jackie. "Baby Bunty says if she had a gold or silver or even a nickel-plated fish to swim around in a bowl of water near her bed she'd have something to look at and watch and she'd feel better. And maybe she would, Uncle Wiggily."

"Maybe she would," agreed the bunny, thoughtfully like.

"So my mother sent me over to ask if maybe you'd go get Baby Bunty a fish that we could put in a bowl of water so she could watch it swim around and flap its tail," spoke Jackie.

"Yes, I'll go and try to get Baby Bunty a fish," said the rabbit gentleman. "Of course it is rather late in the year to go fishing," Uncle Wiggily went on.

"But I'll do my best. As we want to catch a fish alive, I'll get Nurse Jane's large flour sieve. We'll dip that in the water and bring up a fish in it, if we can find one swimming in the brook."

Off started Uncle Wiggily to catch a fish for Baby Bunty. Jackie, the puppy dog chap, went with Mr. Longears. Soon they reached the brook.

"Now you sit quietly on the bank, Jackie," spoke Uncle Wiggily, "so as not to scare the fish, and I'll see if I can dip up one or two in the flour sieve. But I'm afraid it's too late for gold or silver fish, though I may get an iron or copper one," and he laughed as he said this, for he was joking.

While Jackie sat on the bank, Uncle Wiggily dipped Nurse Jane's large flour sieve in the brook again and again. Each time the sieve came up dripping with water, but there was no fish in it.

"Baby Bunty will be so disappointed!" sighed Jackie, after a while.

"Well, I'm glad I'm not going to be disappointed!" snarled an ugly voice, and out from behind the bushes sprang the Fuzzy Fox.

"What are you doing here?" barked the Fox at Uncle Wiggily. "Tell me what you are doing before I nibble your ears."

The rabbit uncle, "And perhaps," he said, "you would like to catch a fish, Mr. Fox, before you nibble my ears?"

"Yes, I'd like to catch a fish," snarled the Fox. "How can I?"

"Sit on the bank of the brook with your back to the water, and let the tip of your tail hang in the brook," said Uncle Wiggily. "A fish will swim along, it will see the tip of your tail in the water and think it is something good to eat. The fish will grab hold of your tail, and all you'll need to do is to pull your tail suddenly out of the water and the fish will come with it."

"I'll do it," said the Fox. He sat on the bank of the stream with his back to the brook and his tail hanging in. Then Uncle Wiggily waved his paw to Jackie. The little doggie boy slipped quietly into the brook above where the Fox sat and swam down under water until he reached the tail of the bad chap. Then Jackie reached up and bit the tail of the Fox very hard.

"Oh, wow! Oh, what was that? Oh, my tail is bitten off! What kind of a fish was that?" howled the bad chap as he ran away.

"That was a sort of dog fish!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily, as Jackie crawled laughing from the brook. Then Uncle Wiggily dipped the sieve in the water again and caught a fine gold fish, which was taken to Baby Bunty. And when she saw the goldfish swimming around in a bowl of water Baby Bunty was so happy that she got well at once.

But the Fox had a sore tail for a long time, and in the telephone doesn't whistle at the postman and make him drop all his letters so he doesn't know how to spell cat, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's wireless concert.

THEATRES

The Glendale

Mae Murray, in "Broadway Rose," now showing at the Glendale theatre, continues the long list of productions in which her vivacious and charming personality is accentuated.

The story, by Edmund Goulding, is an unusually strong one and seems to be built especially for this unique star. It abounds in thrills and suspense, and Mae rushes through it gloriously, giving a lovely creature.

The fact that the production is made by Robert Z. Leonard and distributed by Metro indicates at once that from a technical standpoint it is up to the highest standards. Some of the sets are magnificent, and it contains a strong supporting cast.

The T. D. & L.

"Clarence," the farce comedy-drama, another Wallace Reid Paramount special, delighted hundreds last night at the T. D. & L. Its hilarious effect and continued popularity at this theatre is the best proof in the world that "Clarence" is just the picture for the entire family to see.

It is one of those fine, clean, wholesome films and sparkles all the way through with comedy and humor and humanness. The cast is exceptional, including, besides Wally, Agnes Ayres, May McAvoy and Kathleen Williams.

The comedy, "All Baba and the Forty Thieves," and the Kinogram reel showing latest happening the world over, round out an excellent program.

TOO MUCH MEAT HURTS KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You

Eating too much meat may produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so that it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.—Advertisement.

C. OF C. WOMEN CONDUCT SESSION

Dinner and Forum Held for Members and Is Declared Complete Success

given by Mrs. Marie M. Yeoman of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles County W. C. T. U. V. M. Hollister, president of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly at the opening of the after-dinner hour, taking occasion to compliment the women of the forum on the evening's success, and then presenting Dr. Jessie A. Russell, chairman of the women's forum committee, to introduce the honored guests and speakers of the evening and those giving musical numbers.

Woman Legislator
Dr. Russell responded cleverly and wittily and presented as the first speaker of the evening Miss Eleanor Miller, assemblywoman-elect from Pasadena, the first woman to be sent to the legislature from southern California. A special interest of Miss Miller's appearance on the program last night was that it was her first public presentation since her election last week.

"Women of the Twentieth Century" was the inspiration for Miss Miller's address, which she introduced by reciting "Walk and Say Hello" as a compliment to the enjoyment of the informal hour that preceded the dinner.

Miss Miller, who is well known as a public speaker, has a happy way of just chatting with her listeners, and her selection as one of the speakers for last night's forum was highly complimented by those who heard her.

"The Twentieth Century woman is not different from woman of the centuries past," said Miss Miller, "conditions have just changed and the old backgrounds don't help in facing the new foreground."

Quoting the great poet Lowell, Miss Miller continued, "New visions teach new duties and in talking about women of the Twentieth Century, I am talking about good, honest, practical women."

"I believe that woman's highest sphere is her home and that her greatest service to humanity is the same old service. But, I am asked, 'Isn't woman swerving just a little? Isn't she longing for more power?' Isn't she waiting to leave her home for public life?"

"My answer I want to give in the words of Ruskin, 'Power to heal, power to help, power to teach, power to die,' that describes to me what the woman of the Twentieth Century is seeking. Her activities and interests should extend beyond her home, she should be a universal house-keeper and keenly interested in the affairs of the nation. There is no law passed that does not affect the home either directly or indirectly and it is therefore necessary that the woman's understanding extend beyond her immediate home duties."

"I want to leave with you this larger, broader thought about the woman of the Twentieth Century. She should ever be true to her duties, but no longer is her life bounded by gossip on the north, social affairs on the east, the crocheting shop on the south and the shopping district on the west."

"The Twentieth Century women are not striving for the formation of a women's party, but what we desire is to join hands with the men of the nation in guiding and participating in state and national affairs along humanitarian lines for the development and progress of the nation."

The other honored guest and speaker introduced by Dr. Russell was Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, formerly California committee woman on the National Republican committee, also past president of the California Federation of Women's clubs, and now president of the Woman's Study Club of Southern California.

Mrs. Porter spoke on "Woman's Place in Public Life" and carried out the thought of Miss Miller by saying, "I believe that woman is a home-maker and I am sorry for any man who has to do the housework."

However, as Mrs. Porter has demonstrated by her years of activity in club and civic life, she believes that the modern woman should participate in public life and politics and that women who do so make better housekeepers. "But we women haven't made all the progress we should," she added, "However, we are making progress and I am looking forward to the day when the co-operation of women and men in public affairs and politics will do away with the term politician and put state and national affairs on the basis of statesmanship."

One of the impromptu events of the program was the informal introduction of guests, Dr. Russell presenting Judge and Mrs. Gaven Cruise of Los Angeles; Supervisor and Mrs. Henry Wright of Los Angeles; Secretary and Mrs. William Dunderly of Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Orpitt who are temporarily located in Glendale, while Mr. Orpitt is here as representative of the National Community Service organization.

During the evening enjoyable vocal numbers were given by Mina Winzell and Mrs. Harry M. MacMullin with Miss Pearl Curran as accompanist.

The next forum meeting was announced as Tuesday night, November 28, when John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission play, will be the honored guest and speaker. At that time musical selections will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Herwig.

S. F. Police Rescue Three Slave Girls

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Three little slave girls, one of them but 12 years old, were being cared for today by the Chinese Presbyterian mission following their rescue by police.

Lee Hin "husband" of Fong Seen, 12-year-old slave girl, was arrested for violation of the narcotics law and police say their inquiry indicates he was making a business of "marrying" little Chinese girls in China and bringing them here for a life of shame. Lee Ho and Ah Sum, the other slave girls rescued were both under 17.

Club Life Inspiration
Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley, vice president at large of the California Federation of Women's clubs, was the honored speaker at the ceremonies and she spoke on the inspiration of club life.

She sketched the development of the women's clubs through the years past, beginning with the informal social circles that arose among women inspired with a desire for self-expression.

In complimenting the Tuesday Afternoon club Mrs. Exley said: "I like to call it not a club house but a club home, for just as we build the hearth stone in the home and bring to it the finer and cultured things so we build the club home."

Woman Recognized
Carrying on the thought of previous speakers, Mrs. Exley traced the achievements of women and the place of modern woman in the affairs of the day and quoting a passage from the Bible she stated:

"The stone which the builders rejected has become the head cornerstone."
In closing she said: "For centuries woman has been refused and unrecognized but she has come into her own in both the nation and the world and in laying this cornerstone today let me urge that this stone be a witness of your hopes and plans and that your striving on may never be less and that you press on toward a greater goal."

In the placing of the copper box in the stone Mrs. Campbell asked that Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, past president and now chairman of the executive building committee share honors with her.

"It is indeed a happy day for me and in behalf of the 680 loyal women who have heartily supported every movement for this new club house I place this box containing our treasures in this cornerstone, to be opened years hence."

Seals Stone in Place
Mrs. Campbell then sealed the stone in place, saying: "I put this stone in place to guard the club treasures, to be opened years from now by the grandchildren of the present members."

way of life. Fidelity inspires us to be true to one another, to be loyal to the absent, to care for the unfortunate, and to treasure the memory of the departed."

Three tenor solos were sung by Wilbur Hertz of 329 W. Colorado street: "Nearer My God to Thee," "Face to Face" and "Some Day We Will Understand."

Rev. Cole Speaker.
Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, preached the funeral sermon from the text: "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

"At a time like this there is a consciousness of the flight of time and the uncertainty of life," he asserted. "If we carry the thought of life's brevity and uncertainty in our hearts day by day it will become a call to earnest effort on our parts to make life worth while."

"The feeling of life is that a man has been here for a purpose. Nothing walks with aimless tread from the lowliest cart horse in the street to the highest angel in the courts of God. There is purpose in everything. To one fixed far off divine event that shall create this eyes."

"This day the decisive battle may be fought. This day the stewardship may come to an end and a reckoning be required. We dare not fall below ourselves today."

Born in Missouri.
"Ray A. Borthick was born in Warrensburg, Missouri, July 23, 1876. He received his education and early training in his native state, coming west with his parents when 20 years old. Twenty-six years of his life have been spent in this community."

"Since boyhood he has been an arduous worker and while employed during the daytime studied engineering."

"On March 4, 1922 it was the speaker's privilege to unite him in marriage with Mrs. Phoebe J. Eaton of Santa Barbara."

"Ray Borthick had been a faithful member of the local Elks' club for about ten years and for several years made his home in this clubhouse."

"To all who knew him he was recognized as an honorable, quiet, unassuming man, upon whose judgment and advice men had learned to depend. He had inherited those sterling qualities of uprightness and openness of heart that shall cause him to be well remembered by you who were his friends and neighbors."

The funeral was under the direction of Kiefer & Eyerick. A large procession of automobiles accompanied the hearse to Forest Lawn cemetery.

Three Injured When Gasoline Explodes

LIMA, Ohio, Nov. 15. — William Cramer, 53, and son, John, 21, are reported dying in a Lima hospital today, and Albert Cramer, another son, is in a serious condition at his home at Columbus Grove, near here, as a result of a gasoline torch explosion in their home early today.

The explosion occurred in the kitchen of their home while the sons were repairing part of their radio equipment. The force of the blast rocked the house and was heard for blocks.

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon club. And may this stone and its contents serve as a real inspiration for us and for those who follow."

Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church gave the prayer and Mrs. Greeley Kolts of Los Angeles, sang beautifully Carrie Jacob Bond's "The End of a Perfect Day."

Charter Day Program
A truly quaint old-fashioned garden, with charming old-fashioned misses and sweet old-fashioned melodies was presented as the Charter Day program earlier in the afternoon at the Masonic temple by the members of the club's music section.

Gowned in frocks of long ago and carrying clever little old-fashioned bouquets the members of the music section taking part in the sketch made their bow to the club company while Edith Rogers Arnold sang "An Old-Fashioned Garden."

A most effective and artistic garden setting, with a white lattice trellis for a blossoming rose vine and a miniature picket garden fence was arranged on the auditorium stage and provided an ideal background for the program.

Talented Musicians
The club is most fortunate in having some exceptionally talented musicians as members of the music section and the many compliments on the program yesterday were justly given.

Members of the section taking part in the program were Edith Rogers Arnold, Virginia Freeman, Helen E. MacMullin, Florence Cowan Parker, Helen Graham Cole, Lela Hoga, Draper, Lillian B. McMullin, Riffa, Leighton, Mildred Cowan Meadows, Nana King Custer and Fern Archer Roberts. Miss Gertrude Champlain served as accompanist.

Adding greatly to the program were the dance numbers given by Blossom Moore and Cecilia Mae Fischer, talented pupils of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic Art.

Assisting the music section members in arranging the stage setting were a group of boys from the manual training department of the city schools. To them and to the Newton Electric company, which furnished the foot lighting system, the club women have extended thanks.

Newberry to Resign His Seat in Senate

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—Senator Truman H. Newberry, Republican of Michigan, storm center of one of the biggest political sensations in recent years, has virtually decided to resign his seat rather than subject the Republican party to the embarrassment of his certain ousting at the hands of the Democrats in the sixty-eighth congress, according to reliable information current in political quarters here today.

Senator Newberry's decision is understood to have been reached after a series of conversations with Republicans in Washington. No official announcement was made here today of Senator Newberry's decision because there was nobody here authorized to speak for the Michigan senator, but the expectation that an announcement will be forthcoming shortly prevailed in inner Republican circles. It is no secret that Senator Newberry has been urged by a number of influential Republicans to resign his seat since the election, when Michigan defeated his chief senatorial sponsor, Senator Townsend, and elected a Democrat for the first time in seventy years.

A poll of the new senate, which will take office next March 4, has shown almost beyond any doubt that his foes will have sufficient votes in the sixty-eighth congress to unseat him and in the face of this situation Senator Newberry has been urged to renounce his claims to the seat rather than subject the party to the embarrassment of his being ousted.

BIG FRUIT CAKE PLANT FOR CITY

Attractive Buildings Will Be Erected Very Soon, Says Hazen J. Titus

beautiful buildings in the southland, Mr. Titus declared. It will be of colonial architecture, with close shingled turf, and parkings, and plantings. It will differ from its original only by the absence of the Potomac, he said.

The fruit cake prepared by Mr. Titus has been sold to President Harding, King Albert of Belgium, David Lloyd George, Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and many other notables. In addition, it is distributed regularly to practically every city in the United States and to all the leading countries in Europe.

Before going into the cake business, Mr. Titus was for ten years superintendent of the dining car service of the Northern Pacific railroad. He has a wonderful personality, it is declared, and as some of the officials of the Chamber of Commerce remarked: "He's a go-getter. And one that will prove a mighty asset to Glendale."

Of the many letters and compliments that Mr. Titus has received from notables the world over relative to his fruit cake, the one that pleases him most is from Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, containing the latter's personal endorsement of the Hazen J. Titus Fruit Cake.
